DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-6, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Suzuki et al. (5,558,048). Hiroshi discloses a fluid passage structure of an internal combustion engine, comprising; an in-block flow passage having a first opening position on a top face of a cylinder block; an in-head flow passage having a second opening position on a bottom face of a cylinder head, wherein the first opening position and the second opening position are offset from each other; and a groove that is formed in at least one of the top face and the bottom face and that is provided so as to establish communication between the in-block flow passage and the in-head flow passage. See Figure 9.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Suzuki et al. (5,558,048) in view of Hiroshi (10159649). Suzuki et al. discloses the claimed invention as stated above except a bead protruding from one face of the head gasket. Hiroshi discloses a bead protruding from one face of the head gasket. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to substitute the gasket of Hiroshi in to the invention of Suzuki et al. to improve sealing of the gasket.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 7 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claim 11 is allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed July 27, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The groove inherently defines a throttle in a matter according with applicants' description defined on page 6 of applicants' remarks.

During patent examination, the pending claims must be "given*>their<broadest reasonable interpretation consistent with the specification.">In re Hyatt, 211 F.3d 1367, 1372, 54 USPQ2d 1664, 1667 (Fed. Cir. 2000).

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
